

ETHNIC CLEANSING... IN BRITAIN!

THE FRONT PAGE of the Lancashire Evening Chronicle sets it out in black and white: Ethnic cleansing is going on in Britain. The scandal is that this is happening at all, not that it's in progress in either Lancs or throughout the UK where immigrant communities live side by side with Britons. Assault and vandalism are the weapons used by the anti-white race hate extremists.

Screaming: "Get out of our area, this is our country now" followed by assault by a gang of cowardly Asian racists is the pattern for this kind of ethnic cleansing.

Low level racist violence is used against elderly white people in 'burglaries' where little of value is taken, but where the victim is given a 'good kicking' while being robbed. Tower Hamlets in East London is notorious for this kind of racist attack.

Elsewhere, racist Asian gangs target small groups, or even single youths to beat a message into them: 'This is our area now.' As a result, white people are moving out of parts of England, defended from foreign invaders for centuries, creating ethnic ghettos in which Islamic militants hold sway.

The areas affected most are West Yorkshire, East Lancashire and London. Even so, racial violence has affected Derby with fighting between Asian and black gangs.

In Bradford, the white Heaton enclave of Bradford surrounded by the Asian Manningham area is a front line against the Asian racists and indeed, the term 'front line' is in common usage. White youths are forced to defend their neighbourhood from violent Asian incursions. In various areas of Britain, racial gangs a dozen strong and more can be seen on patrol.

The politicians who coo over the multi-racial experiment are clearly living on another planet. Indeed, it's a noticeable fact that multi-racialism's strongest supporters live well out of the firing line.

The insane policy of multi-racialism forced upon us with no mandate by the politicians was always going to end in tears. In India, partition led to 2 million deaths in communal violence. In the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia, multi-racialism has led to civil war. In the USA, it has led to rocketing levels of crime and a racial hell-hole.

The British National Party — the one party of common sense on this issue — recognises that multi-racialism has failed. It has failed because human nature always acts in defence of group interests. There is only one solution: Stop immigration and start repatriation!

WORRIES OVER OLDHAM STATISTICS

Violent racial crime rockets

AGAINST all national trends, three out of four victims of racial violence in Oldham are white. And the unique nature of Oldham's racial problems is worrying senior police officers and leaders of the Asian community.

Violent racial crime in Oldham rocketed 50 per cent last year — the national increase was 8 per cent — with 250 incidents, mostly involving violence on whites by Pakistanis.

Oldham's statistics on race violence are the worst in Greater Manchester and among the worst in the country.

WEAPONS

Chief Supt Eric Hewitt, the head of Oldham Police, said: "If the Home Secretary is concerned about an 8 per cent increase nationally, you can understand our worry about figures that are leaping ahead of that."

Mr Hewitt says that many of the attacks on whites by Asians were gang related and added that there was evidence they were trying to set up no-go areas for whites.

He spelled out his twin fears — that

Three out of four victims are white someone will die in the attacks, because most of the gangs used weapons, and a white backlash that could bring racial violence to the streets of Oldham.

Mr Hewitt's concerns are shared by Councillor Jawaid Iqbal, one of the leaders of the Asian community in Oldham.

"Many young Pakistanis are rebelling against their culture, family and religion," says Councillor Iqbal. "Parental control is breaking down."

Councillor Iqbal believed that better integration may be the answer, with buses used to take Asian pupils to schools in all parts of Oldham so that white and Asian youngsters had a better chance to mix.

"May be it is time we made moves to ensure a greater mix of Asian and white children in all our schools so they have contact with one another and can make friends," said Councillor Iqbal.

The headline from the Lancashire Evening Chronicle. Racist Asian violence against whites and blacks is widespread across the whole of the UK. The Islamic militancy which drives this racism targets Sikhs, Hindus, Whites and Blacks alike in an expression of pure racial hatred.

NATIONALIST UNITY

The recent stunning victory in France by the Front National will give heart to all nationalists everywhere (see p6). It was not so much the welcome increase in the Front's representation, but the clever ploy used by the Front to split and potentially destroy the traditional right. It was a brilliant manoeuvre and it paid off handsomely.

In France, of course, nationalism is united and as a consequence, much bigger. With that extra size, extra possibilities become apparent. Here in the UK, about half of the smaller National Democrat organization has just merged with the BNP (see p4). More may follow as that party breaks up.

It is as true today as when the analogy was first made with a bundle of sticks and a single stick: united we are strong, divided we are weak. The idea of different nationalist organisations — all of which are much smaller than the BNP — replicating the same political message as the BNP is a futile one.

Together, with an increased pool of experience, talent and resources so much more can and will be achieved.

The merger has come fractionally too late to affect the council elections in May, but it has come in plenty of time for the big effort being made for next year's Euro-Elections. As we head for the new millennium and the challenges beyond, organised nationalism in the shape of the BNP is building an ever bigger and more sophisticated political machine in order to present a bigger, more effective challenge to the old political order which has so comprehensively betrayed Britain and the British.

CORRECTION

Last month an oversight was made in respect of the editorial. Belatedly, British Nationalist announces a new editor: veteran nationalist Tony Lecomber. Tony in fact was the editor as of last month, not just this month. John Morse's name should not have appeared at the head of last month's editorial.

NICK GRIFFIN FREE SPEECH TRIAL STARTS 27th APRIL

Nick Griffin's appointment with the Witch Finder General, Alex Carlile at Harrow Crown Court for publishing views and images that the government doesn't like such as: 'wanted: more white children', along with beautiful pictures of our ancestors is to go ahead next month.

With flight tickets for several witnesses from overseas, their accommodation and for other members of the defence team, security arrangements, research and office facilities, the 'free speech war chest' needs to contain £5,000 by the start of the trial. At present, it stands at just over £2,000.

Nick says: "A number of supporters overseas, who do not normally give money to the BNP, have pledged further financial assistance, and I do not want to divert money which our own people would otherwise give to the £50,000 Euro-Elections fund. But there is no getting away from the fact that I can't fight this case in the way that it needs to be fought without donations from supporters in Britain, including some of those who have already given 'till it hurts'."

It's your freedom too, so help Nick Griffin defend it from the government's outrageous assault on free speech. Send all donations to 'Publicity for Freedom' at PO. Box 14, Welshpool, Powys SY21 0WE.

THE HOMOSEXUAL THREAT TO OUR CHILDREN

Next month, sex monster Sidney Cooke convicted of manslaughter in relation to Jason Swift gets out of prison, free as a bird. His victim, little 14-year-old Jason was repeatedly raped by Cooke and his evil cronies and then strangled to death. Investigating police officers believe that Cooke and his gang were responsible for the murders of at least another three children and most likely more.

Cooke, 68, has changed his name to Sidney Lomas and is believed to be sporting a beard and mustache to disguise his evil features.

BN asks why is it that so many homosexuals are child molesters? Statistically, homosexuals are a whopping seventeen times more likely to molest children than normal men. The powerful homosexual lobby — powerful because so many of them infest the nations politics and media — has stayed notably silent on this issue.

Nevertheless, the full homosexual agenda — the drive towards legalised sex with children is, so far as they're concerned, coming along nicely. With the reduction in the age of homosexual consent reduced from 21 to 18 and which is likely to go down to 16 soon, that means boys as young as 14, just like Jason, will be prey for the perverts. It is a fact that police rarely bother with underage sexual activity. Lowering the age of consent will simply mean that the perverts can search for ever younger victims — and with little fear of the law!

The scandal of the disproportionate involvement of homosexuals in child molestation is not one that has been properly publicised. Easy going Joe Public probably thinks an equal age of consent is a case of 'fair do's for all.' Would he be so relaxed if he knew the facts of 'gay' child molestation?

Who will provide a lead against this sickening perversion? Certainly not the politicians who are promoting it. What about the Church? The Church, unfortunately, has proved quite incapable of giving a moral lead. Indeed, it is fighting a losing battle within its very own ranks to stem the queer tide. 'Gay' vicars and even bishops are well entrenched within the Church. It's not to much of an exaggeration to say that it will not be long before we will see a 'gay' Archbishop of Canterbury.

Only the British National Party, it seems, is against the remorseless spread of the 'gay tide'. The BNP bears homosexuals no ill will, nor would the party seek to persecute them. Homosexuals have always been around and probably always will be. What the party would seek to do however, is to shut the closet door back up with a thump! When homosexuality was legalised in 1968, it was expected that they would stay behind closed doors. It was not expected that they would try to foist their 'life-style' onto everyone else. It's gone much too far. They've been given an inch and they've taken the proverbial mile. It's time to take it all back!

The Warning

Enter friend and wear our chains, we'll bring you human rights,
(But not for honest citizens — Just for parasites.)
Your snout will soon be in the trough — your fortune we will make,
(From the fools who pay their dues — while the others, they just take)
We're squeaky clean and liberal, our foes we have kept quiet
(For opponents do not qualify for any human right!)

After years of being silenced, and governed by fools, the Bulldog turned (with Euro-friends) and broke the Liberal rules:-
"Laziness rewarded, and hard work decried", —
That golden rule of Liberalists was rapidly defied.
Parasites went homeward bound, returning to their forefathers ground,
To lands and places far away, but where the DSS would send no pay.
"The truth is out," the Liberals cried, "We do confess to you we lied."
Moral: If you create a monster to all our hats we must doff,
Do not be surprised if another monster turns — and bites your head right off!

THE SILENT GENOCIDE

The official revelation that ethnic cleansing is rife in Oldham, is stunning news. Not so much because it wasn't known that this was happening, as because it represents an official admission.

Chief Superintendent Eric Hewitt along with the Oldham Evening Chronicle have well and truly spilled the beans on this explosive story.

The scandalous fact, however, is that the national news media are deliberately ignoring this news. Instead, the media found time to lament a black teacher being knocked unconscious by white schoolchildren who racially abused her. Aside from shock and a few bruises, she is unhurt. It is quite right that her attackers be condemned, but where is the sense of proportion?

Imagine: white youths routinely gang up in mobs of 12-20 and savagely beat younger single blacks (or Asians). Sometimes, they beat and stab small groups of 3 or 4. This goes on for months. At the same time as the attacks are being carried out blacks are told they're 'black trash' and they should keep out of 'our area'. Elderly black householders are repeatedly robbed and severely beaten. The effect is to cause blacks to move out of their homes. Black girls are raped by gangs of white boys. Afterwards, the girl is urinated on by the boys. Young black girls are spat at in the street by whites and have a bucket of urine thrown over them from a local all-white community centre. It's unbelievable isn't it? But this is actually what is happening in parts of England right now. Read different colours from the ones given above and it's happening. The real victims, of course, are white and they're moving out of the affected areas as fast as they can.

The race-hate attackers, the anti-white racial extremists are allowed to operate almost with impunity. Why? Because it's official government and police policy not to upset the various 'ethnic communities'. Racist Asian thugs have got carte blanche to perpetrate genocide — and the forceable removal of any people from their territory is genocide. This crime would get more attention if it happened in the former Yugoslavia. If it happened in Britain and the perpetrators were white, it would make the Stephen Lawrence case look like very small beer.

Instead, it is happening to white people. The response: a deafening silence. The British people have no defenders amongst the establishment: they have been sold out for the ethnic vote. The only party to give any consideration to the downtrodden indigenous whites of these islands is the BNP!

That racist attacks in are on the increase is a shattering — it is a largely similar story.

It may surprise many to find out of every four of incidents of intimidation, and stabbings, locally, the re white.

Fears growing over plague of racist attacks by Asian gangs

FOLLOWING a week which witnessed two more racially-motivated gang attacks in Oldham, STEVE LAWS investigates the rising tide of incidents violence are by far the highest in Greater Manchester, and one of the worst in the country.

But it is the nature of these figures that is causing even more disquiet. It points to a spiralling violent tendency among Asian youths.

Chief Supt Hewitt said: "In other towns we have studied, there is evidence to suspect the phenomenon of Asian violence is not peculiar to Oldham."

"But what would seem to make Oldham totally different is the tremendous imbalance between the numbers of Asian and white associates. "While we will not some of the attacks out of an attempt by Asian youths at ghettoisation.

"There is evidence that they are trying to create exclusive areas for themselves. We have experience of comments such as 'whites keep out'."

"Anyone seems to be a target if they are white and they are vulnerable. We have even had mothers pushing prams come under attack."

"There is no evidence of an organised campaign, but in a way that is more worrying. If it was organised we could target individuals."

"It is organised only to the extent that there are gangs involved. But these groups are not formally linked with a joint purpose."

"It is only fair to say that when I have gone to Asian attacks are happening with a frighteningly regular occurrence.

"If the problem continues at this rate, my fear is that one day soon one of these violent acts will result in somebody being killed."

"Considering many of the attacks have involved gangs using weapons, it is certainly down to good fortune that no one has died already."

But Mr Hewitt has a second fear—a white backlash that could bring organised racial violence to the streets of Oldham.

Mr Hewitt said: "I fear the potential for extremist right-wing groups to exploit the problems that are growing in Oldham."

"We had evidence of this with Combat 18, which we smashed over a year ago, but there is evidence of other elements operating

"But it is still continuing despite the extensive efforts of Asian community leaders to point Asian youths towards more constructive things."

Oldham's Asian population is rising fast. Since the census of 1991, the Pakistani community has increased 25 per cent, the Bangladeshi 50 per cent.

And, with 50 per cent of all Asians now aged under 16, Oldham police realise they face a race-hate cancer which, if not cured now, could grow to become a future plague.

Killed

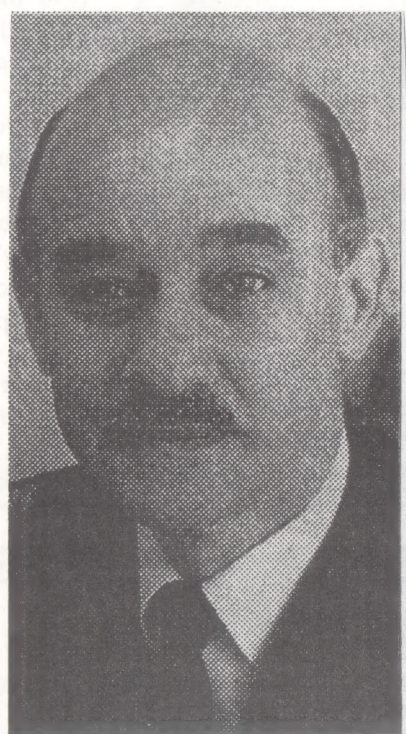

Mr Hewitt said: "We pride ourselves in Oldham that we have a fairly sophisticated reporting system for racial incidents, involving other agencies in the town. But, even so, we acknowledge that the figures we

"The same characteristics come up again and again. It is almost invariably a gang activity, often involving weapons, usually against a white victim on their own..."

There is evidence that they [Asian Muslims] are trying to create exclusive areas for themselves. We have experience of comments such as: 'Whites keep out.' Anyone seems to be a target if they are white and they are vulnerable. We have even had mothers pushing prams under attack."

THE TED BUDDEN COLUMN

DEVOLVED OUT OF EXISTENCE

Divide and conquer is a famous political maxim and it is Tony Blair's earnest desire to devolve every region of the United Kingdom; in short, to Balkanise it so that it may be delivered up in powerless job lots to a Federal Europe. Since Blair has declared it to be his ambition to give power to the people and since an increasing number of the people aren't British at all, perhaps we shall see a devolved Leicester or Bradford or Southall or Birmingham with an Indian High Commissioner as Viceroy? That may not be Blair's master plan but there is certainly one part of the United Kingdom that he and his kind are determined to devolve out of existence — Northern Ireland.

For the 'peace process' at Stomont is aimed at doing precisely that. The insistence on admitting Sinn Fein to the discussions is surely the most cynical act of treachery in our country's recent history. The IRA has not the least intention of abandoning its campaign of terror as Blair well knows. Gerry Adams has constantly reiterated his determination to "Get the British out of Ireland", an aim he shares with Tony Blair if not with precisely the same motives. In choosing to believe that Adams and his gangster friend can deliver peace, this Government has had a convenient lapse of memory and is eager to forget that it was when the 'official' IRA decided to forsake violence that the Provisional IRA came into being with Adams as one of its leaders. One would need to believe in fairies or leprechauns to suppose that, in the unlikely event of Adams forswearing a return to violence, there would not be another splintering with terrorist gangsters renewing the 'struggle' under another name.

Indeed "getting the British out of Ireland" is an ambition of such breathtaking impudence as to be mind boggling. Gerry Adams and his gangster friends are British citizens and they occasionally take time off from planning terrorist acts to collect their social security payments kindly donated by the British taxpayer. They are actively engaged in war and that alone should bar them from any discussions on the future of N. Ireland.

So precisely what are the Loyalists and the self-declared enemies of Britain supposed to be discussing? It can only be yet more concessions to the IRA and the further involvement of the Irish Government in the affairs of a part of the United Kingdom. For while we constantly hear of the 'problem of N.

Ireland', in fact the real problem is Southern Ireland and its continuing claim to the 'six counties'. If the Irish Government really wanted peace in N. Ireland, they would renounce that claim forthwith and deprive the IRA of any semblance of a cause but they will not and for them the IRA is a means to an end.

The main danger to the Loyalists at the present time is the desire of the Ulster Unionist Party for a devolved government which some of them mistakenly believe would allow them to rule the roost as they did a quarter of a century ago. The fact that Blair also wants them to have a devolved government with every fibre of his treacherous soul has apparently not made the warning bells ring. For any thinking person can see with dreadful clarity that any form of devolution would have strings attached and that the strings would lead all the way to Dublin. Tony Blair would be only too happy to withdraw British troops, thereby appeasing the IRA and effectively leaving Ulster in limbo. Then, when normal terrorism was resumed, he could shrug his shoulders as if to say: "We've tried our best. What can you do with them?"

No doubt the Irish Government are licking their lips at the prospect of an easy territorial conquest but they should not be too sanguine. A million Loyalists will not go quietly. There may be bombs in Dublin instead of Belfast. Perhaps if there had been a quarter of a century ago it would have dampened their ardour somewhat and made the great Blair sell-out unnecessary.

NATIONAL DEMOCRATS JOIN BNP!

Following hours of discussions with key BNP writer and thinker Nick Griffin, the whole of the West Midlands region of the National Democrats has crossed over to the British National Party.

The powerful West Midlands region of the National Democrats held a formal region-wide meeting following the talks with Nick Griffin and voted overwhelmingly to merge its forces with the BNP.

Key Nat-Dem people joining the party include Simon Darby, head of Information Technology and who had set up and run the Nat-Dem web site; Sharron Edwards, a member of the Nat-Dem Executive Council and head of the family values department; Steven Edwards, National Elections Officer and the enterprising Nat-Dem candidate for West Bromwich West who polled 4,181 votes for 11.39% of the poll against the speaker of the House of Commons, Betty Boothroyd. (Steven and Sharron are husband and wife); also joining the party is Andy Edwards (no relation), the Nat-Dem West Midlands Regional Organiser.

The West Midlands region of the National Democrats have been that party's powerhouse as well as their electorally best performing area and so represents a considerable addition of strength and experience available to the BNP.

British Nationalist is pleased to be able to welcome so many new nationalist friends.

The National Democrats were formed in 1995 as the result of a name change from the National Front. The Nat-Dems fielded 21 candidates in last year's General Election and have polled quite well in council by-elections — particularly in the West Midlands.

Nevertheless, the party remained quite small with some eight party units as of last summer — three of which were in the West Midlands.

In recent times, the Nat-Dems have had its Cannock and Leicester groups fold and its Hull unit has also dropped out. The loss by the National Democrats of the West Midlands to the BNP along with a number of other individuals in other areas puts a real question mark against its continued existence.

Other Nat-Dem people may very well be following the lead given by the West Midlands Nat-Dems and crossing over to the BNP where they would be welcome and could make valued contributions to the party's further progress.

MP THREATENS CONSTITUENT

Members of Parliament, according to theory, are people to whom we the ordinary folk of Britain can write about our problems and concerns, with the expectation of a sympathetic hearing.

But not so these days — as one reader of BN found out when he dared to send his MP a letter of dissatisfaction. The next thing he found was that was being threatened with prosecution!

Mr. Clive Farrer of Peterborough, a pensioner, wrote last year to local Labour MP Helen Brinton voicing his concern about harassment of people in his neighbourhood by gangs of young Asians prowling the streets. He received the usual fob-off, saying that his letter had been forwarded to the police for their study. Shortly afterwards, Mrs. Brinton sent him a copy of the reply she had received from the police, giving assurance that patrols would be present in the area as in the past (when they were of little help in stopping the trouble).

Mr. Farrer wrote again to Brinton, saying: "I would please have you know that besides 'fear of personal safety,' it is a profound general disgust at the situation which I feel — that large numbers of ethnic peoples should be brought here against the needs and wishes of the British people and allowed to get away with such behaviour.

"Why was no notice taken of such as the truly Rt. Hon. MP Enoch Powell, or the old National Front (the forerunner of the British National Party), who correctly forecast and warned against the situation now with us?"

This was too much for Mrs. Brinton, who replied to Mr. Farrer: "Thank you for your letter. I read your views carefully, and feel that I must now warn you that disseminating material similar to that which I received a few days ago may well be illegal under the anti-racism laws we have in this country. If you continue to distribute these views you may face criminal charges (emphasis added — Ed). "I trust you will not be contacting me on this subject again."

Mr. Farrer, being a member of the BNP, was not to be intimidated. He replied to Mrs. Brinton, saying: "Your letter to hand, in which you 'feel that you must now warn me,' etc.

"Now I must warn you in turn that I do not take kindly to veiled threats from people seeking to equate British racial patriotism with criminal charges, or seeking to stifle free speech...

"Would you please send me a copy of the 'disseminating material' you refer to as proof, and for comparison with my letter. Otherwise I must conclude that you mean my letter itself.

"In this case, and to show you have the courage of your convictions, I suggest you take me to court.

"In passing, you will not mind me seeking your confirmation that British MPs are nothing but the servants of the British people, paid by them to look after their interests."

Mr. Farrer has received no reply.

LAWRENCE ENQUIRY FAMILY TRY TO DICTATE TERMS

[A school] education pack compares the American Bill of Rights with the 'flourishing' Mende land culture in what is now Sierra Leone.

This idea suits the prevailing multicultural ethos but it is wrong. Had Europe and Africa met on equal terms at the time of the slave trade, it would have been impossible for one to dominate the other.

Europe's pre-eminence in political, economic and military power at the time gave rise not only to slavery but also to the Enlightenment, the possibility that equal men should bring together human resources in industrialisation on a hitherto unknown scale. For all its secular and judicial system, the Mende culture, based on farming, would have remained primitive, incomparable with the complex social systems developing in Europe and America. It's not racist of me to say that at this point European civilisation was best... There's only one history for both blacks and white: the facts of our common history mustn't be revised in the interests of political correctness. As an Asian teacher in an inner-city school, I find the historical revisionism shown by those associated with Amistad doesn't help counter racist ideas nor, in this instance, has it produced a great film.

Alka Shegal, letters, Daily Mail.

Tough on crime, tough on the causes of crime. Remember that mantra chanted daily by Tony Blair before the election?

A woman accused of being involved in a plot to murder British soldiers was released because the government decided it would be unhelpful and oppressive... The Home Secretary has announced that 55,000 illegal immigrants, many of them involved in benefit fraud will not be pursued.

I've never been able to fathom why people in positions of authority in Britain hate their own country and the vast majority of law-abiding people who pay their wages.

Littlejohn, The Sun.

Whoever governs these islands a century from now may well say that we deserved to lose our independence, our language, our traditions and our culture. And, given the way we are treating the memories of those who saved us from subjugation in the past, they may well be right to say so.

LOCAL BNP LEAFLET CAMPAIGNS GET RESULTS!

Following the big South Wales Day of Action in Port Talbot, Neath, Llanelli and Swansea reported in last month's BN, local 'worthies' have run screaming to the local papers saying that it's an outrage that the party promote its viewpoint. The leaflet, about Monserrat refugees being rehoused in South Wales ahead of local people who been waiting, sometimes for years, is stirring up a storm. Local anti-British politicians are worried that the leaflets are being well received and have run to the press claiming that the party's leaflet is 'racist'. Local Lib-Dem Peter Black is pictured right in The Western Mail, holding up one of the leaflets which can be seen to say: 'what about local people' and 'charity begins at home' along with the party's phone number.

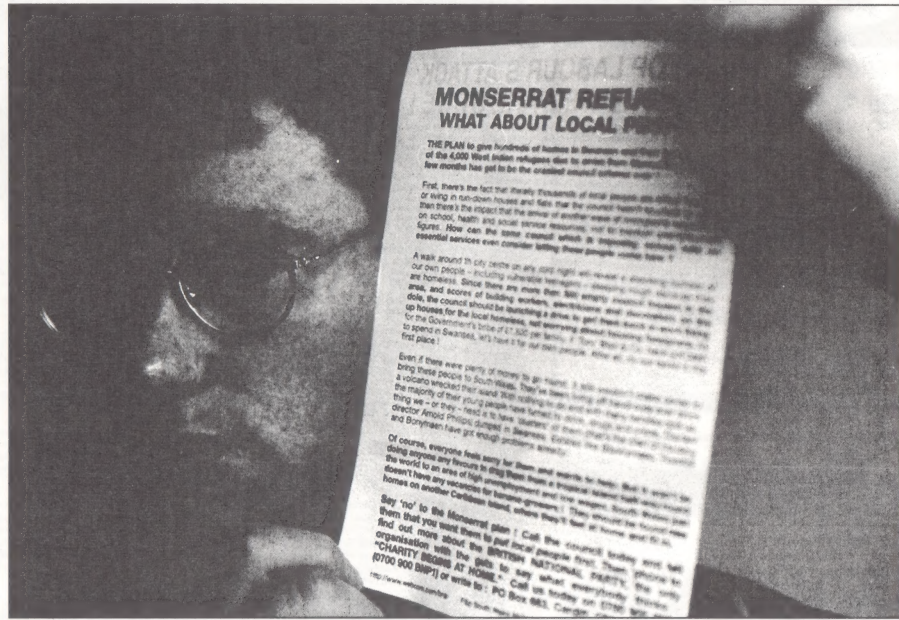

Amazingly, Black claimed that the offer to house refugees from Monserrat would not affect local people. On the very next page was a report that homelessness was up and that 300,000 people in South Wales are living in unfit housing! The Western Mail contacted the telephone number given and was told by party spokesman Nick Griffin that thousands of leaflets had been dropped and that they had produced a good response. The activity was also covered on Welsh Ceefax and Teletext.

Below is a new localised leaflet on the theme of violent Asian race attacks upon whites. The first one is directed at Oldham following the local admission that Asians are trying to ethnically cleanse parts of Oldham of their white inhabitants.

This leaflet, along with the nationally produced one on the same subject is sure to receive a lot of support locally. Watch this space!

SWANSEA: British National Party documents pour scorn on council's offer to Monserrat refugees

WORRIED: Swansea Liberal Democrats leader Peter Black with the leaflet he says is racist

Police check leaflets after racism claim

POLICE are examining allegedly racist leaflets being distributed carrying the British National Party name.

The BNP leaflets are heavily critical of Swansea City and County Council's decision to offer homes in Swansea to refugees from the volcano-hit Caribbean island of Monserrat.

The leaflets, delivered to homes and distributed in pubs, say, "South Wales doesn't have any vacancies for banana growers."

"They should be found homes on another Caribbean island where they'll feel at home and fit in."

"If Tony Blair and Co have cash to spend in Swansea, let's have it for our own people, after all it is our taxes in the first place."

"Even if there were plenty of money to go round it still would not make sense to bring these people to South Wales.

"They have been living off hand-outs ever since a volcano wrecked their island."

"With nothing to do and with many families split up, the majority of their young people have turned to drink, drugs and crime."

"The last thing we, or they, need is to have clusters of them dumped in Swansea."

Peter Black, the leader of Swansea City and County Council's Liberal Democrat group and a former chairman of the party in Wales, condemned the leaflets as opportunist and racist.

He has asked South Wales Police to consider prosecuting the publishers for racial incitement.

He said, "The leaflet deals with the issue of Monserrat refugees and the decision of Swansea City and County Council to offer small numbers of them homes."

"It alleges that this action will prejudice existing tenants, homeless and roofless people while at the same time adding to unemployment."

"It consistently distinguishes between 'them' (the Monserrats) and 'us' and concludes that South Wales does not have any space for them."

"I am not concerned that people will be taken in by this nonsense as the vast majority are clued up enough to know that these sort of claims are rubbish."

"However, it is worrying that an act of common decency such as taking in homeless refugees can be used as mindless propaganda in this way, presumably in the pursuit of racial purity."

"I would urge anybody who is tempted to contact the BNP as a result of this leaflet to find out about the facts first, either from myself, their own councillor or from the council itself."

A spokesperson for South Wales Police said the leaflets were under examination.

No one was available for comment yesterday from the BNP's London office.

The leaflets, which urge readers to telephone a national information line to find out how to join the party, claim to have been published by the British National Party and give a Cardiff PO Box address.

ASIAN RACIST VIOLENCE IT'S GOT TO STOP!

RACIST ATTACKS by gangs of Muslim thugs have brought Oldham to the edge of what even Asian News describes as a 'race war'. Whole areas of four town, such as Alexandra Park and Glodwick, have already become virtual 'no-go' areas for local people. And with vicious anti-white violence in broad daylight in the town centre, and even in remaining white areas such as West Street estate, it looks like these Asian extremists have decided on 'ethnically cleansing' Oldham. How can this be stopped?

What's at the root of the problem? Firstly, the failed multi-racial society, which our politicians created without consulting us in the first place. Secondly, the pro-Asian grovelling of Labour, Lib-Dem and Conservative politicians. Led by Labour's rabidly anti-British local council, and Euro-MP Glyn Ford, these people have bent over backwards for the immigrant vote. Worst of all, while constantly condemning white 'racism', they have pressured the police into turning a blind eye to the far worse problem of Asian-on-white racial attacks. As a result, the Muslim gangs responsible think that they're above the law, and that they rule Oldham.

We've got to change that — fast! Step One is for white people to start looking after each other. Whenever one of these cowardly gangs attacks a white person call the police, but remember that you also have a legal right and duty to use as much force as is necessary to rescue the victim there and then.

COMMUNITY SELF-DEFENCE IS NO OFFENCE! Step Two is for whites to unite politically as well. We need to organise to protect and promote the safety, interests and identity of our own people.

Pictured right is a clipping from The Countryman's weekly of March 20th. The BNP activity which distributed 30,000 copies of British Countryman at the Countryside Alliance march at the beginning of last month has certainly got noticed. The media reaction hasn't been explosive, but very quietly the message has got over that the BNP is not just a single issue party, the BNP is for everyone. British Countryman, which was put together and edited by Nick Griffin has confirmed both the party's aim to expand its appeal and also Nick's talent both as a key thinker and writer.

British National Party focuses on the countryside discontent

THE British National Party has said it is to distribute 30,000 copies of a political newspaper by the end of March.

Called British Countryman, the party has used its editorial to focus on current discontent in the countryside.

The party contested 55 seats in the last General Election, giving it political broadcasts, and saved three deposits.

The party is opposed to erosion of freedom, such as the Foster Bill to ban hunting, but is seen by some to be too extreme in its nationalist views ever to have a popular appeal.

It comes as no surprise that protesting countrymen are currently seen as potential members.

Sir,
On holiday in Germany, I learnt that German pensioners get around £120 per week — nearly double the British pension. Since the German cost of living is nowhere like twice that of Britain, it follows that Germany looks after its old folk much better than we do. Why? It was only 50 years ago since we were told we had won a war and Germany had been reduced to ruins. British governments have been manifestly incompetent.
Miss. F. Cussen, Kent.

Sir,
please do something to help the loyal folk in Northern Ireland. The Labour government are selling us out, no matter what they may be saying. Protestant homes are being attacked on a daily basis; formerly protestant areas are now Republican. The flag of the Republic is flying all around yet the Union flag is forbidden to be flown, even when the Queen arrived for a visit.

Republicans broke into City Hall, Belfast and destroyed books of condolences to Princess Diana and run up the Irish tricolour.

The truth is that ethnic cleansing is going on right now and has been going on for years.
Anon, Ulster.

Sir,
If you ever wonder why the British fishermen are obliged to sell their boats and depend on dole benefits to survive, here is the beginning of an answer. An EU document bears the title 'Die Fischversorgung weltweit sicherstellen', in clear: 'Assuring fish supplies worldwide', as everything has to happen 'worldwide' today...

French fishing harbours are in exactly the same sorry plight, but that is probably not a great consolation to you!

Jean-Louis Pesteil, France.

Sir,
At last a newspaper with some common sense and which is not afraid to tell the truth. How long I've waited to see in print all the things I've felt for years. I received your excellent anti-paedophile leaflet through the letter box last week and I contacted the South Birmingham office of the British National Party. I was very impressed with what they had to say and have decided to take British Nationalist from them each month. My husband and I wish you every success in your great endeavour.
J. Reed, Birmingham.

Sir,
My husband and myself became members last year, but not long after he suffered a stroke and died. It was a terrible shock because he was so bright and cheerful.

Mr. Peacock of Leicester BNP kept me in touch with the party's news and also wrote many kind letters. I have given some copies of BN to my daughter who would also like to become a member.

Enclosed is a clipping from the local paper. Even worse was last year when a white father went shopping with his son in Luton. Witnessed by a crowd of OAPs from a nearby church, he was set upon by a gang of Asians with baseball bats and killed. This was on an afternoon. Every week something happens and it seems to be getting worse...

Wishing you continued progress and best wishes.
Mrs. M. Ivey, Luton.

Sir,
may I draw your attention to the amount of money being spent on the Asian community in Oldham.

The area is Glodwick, with Victorian era housing and it used to look quite nice. I know because I used to live there. Glodwick and the local Alexandria Park are very precarious places to tread these days if you are white.

Since Glodwick has been largely settled by Asians, the area has become an eyesore. As a result, the taxpayer is

LET THEM EAT NERVE GAS!

British Ministers have banned the sale of beef on the bone as unsafe and condemn Saddam Hussein's chemical weapon armoury containing nerve gases based on organophosphorous (OP's) chemicals. While he has these chemicals, the world is in danger says the government. Back home, these chemicals are found in pesticides and are widely believed to be responsible for long-term health problems. Farmers using OP's as sheep dip have fallen irreparably ill showing symptoms similar to Gulf War syndrome. Shoppers meanwhile buy produce sprayed with the stuff.

AID NOT WANTED

Uganda's President, Yoweri Museveni has criticised the West for continuing to provide aid to "dead economies" in Africa.

Saying African leaders typically stole aid instead of investing it he continued: "Aid is a life-support system for something that is already dead. Aid causes dependency and dependency is slavery."

PC FORD

Ford Motor Company has dropped an advert based on the film The Full Monty. The ad, which received one complaint before being withdrawn did not contain a single black actor. Equally, the film didn't contain a female and could thus be considered sexist. Additionally, as none of the actors was specifically identified as 'gay', it could also have been interpreted as homophobic.

IMMIGRATION FILE

A dozen would-be illegal immigrants have died trying to make the trip across the straits of Gibraltar to Spain from North Africa. The boat capsized and sunk in heavy seas. 17 illegals were picked up by Spanish coastguards and are now on track for generous benefits as 'asylum seekers'.

A £50,000 lottery grant is being used to fund an electronic database to help more illegal immigrants stay in Britain by accessing Immigration Appeals and previous Tribunals decisions. No expense is to be spared to make sure these parasites get their 'rights'.

being asked to shoulder the cost burden of bringing the area back up to its former splendour to the tune of £27 million. This is in addition to all the money spent on the area in the past.

Fitton Hill, a deprived but white area of Oldham is to get nothing. How long will the £27 million last this time?

Are all the Asian areas to qualify for this type of spending every 10 years or so to make up for sheer neglect and ignorance.

B. Dobby, Manchester.

Sir,
Enclosed are two cuttings from our local paper, the Leicester Mercury. One tells how much money the City Council spends on the Asian festival of Diwali and how the Asians want more; the other is a letter from a white resident of the Braunstone estate telling about the poor housing of the area suggesting the money could be better spent there. Having leafleted this estate I can confirm that it is a very run down area, with houses boarded up, and in some cases falling apart on almost every road.

James, Leicester BNP.

NEW BNP LEAFLETS

All these children would be alive today if our spineless politicians had the guts to declare war on the paedophiles

The killers of all these children were either known or convicted paedophiles — like dozens of other child-killers. How many more must die before something is done? Only when we lock away the perverts who prey on our children, removing them from society completely, will our streets and playgrounds be safe again. And for paedophiles who kill their victims, the only just punishment is the rope!

MEDIA DYNAMITE!

Two new party leaflets have been drawn up to capture public support using a different style of leaflet to that used in the past. These two new leaflets are 2-sided A4 in one colour and to help promote distribution as much as possible, the party has obtained a special printing deal to keep prices very low!

The issue of paedophilia or child molesters to give them their common name is big news around the country. Sex beasts are being routinely 'outed' and demonstrations are occurring against them. This is the leaflet to set the topic alight and give any BNP branch almost

THEME-PARK BRITAIN

How 'politically correct' townies are killing our country

ANOTHER farmhouse lies derelict, either to fall down or to become a yuppie weekend cottage. Yet another family swallowed up in the city, while more and more farms every year are taken over by city speculators, while village schools, pubs and shops become holiday homes. Rural Britain has been systematically neglected and depopulated by a system based on city 'values' and short-term greed. What has this got to do with Field Sports? Everything!

Our masters in Westminster and the media have forgotten that a healthy countryside is the backbone of a nation. Their only concern is to preserve a few pretty bits as a summer theme park and tourist trap. The idea of a rural Britain which stands on its own feet, which has its own industries, traditions and sports actually frightens our urban masters, because it doesn't need them. They need our taxes, but rural Britain doesn't need the parasites in parliament. Whitehall and the TV studios. But people who don't need their 'help' make these power-junkies uneasy. That's why they 'love' the 'underprivileged, multi-racial inner-cities', and it's why they hate the real people of rural Britain.

That's the real reason for their attack on country sports. Animal welfare doesn't come into it. If it did, they'd do something about the scandal of halal and kosher ritual slaughter, whereby hundreds of thousands of animals every year are slowly bled to death without any pre-stunning, in ways which would land any other slaughterman in prison. But the Labour Party and most 'animal welfare' fanatics turn a blind eye to this 'religious' savagery, just as they ignore the huge numbers of lambs taken by foxes and badgers. After all, cuddly foxes are politically correct, whereas native Britons, and our traditions and livelihoods don't count. We only built this country, we only pay the taxes — so we don't count!

As a matter of fact, the masters of urbanised Britain don't give a damn about foxes either. If they did, they wouldn't be so keen to condemn them to slow death by poison, habitat-destruction and gangrene from bullet wounds (where are they going to find 'marksmen' in a country where they've outlawed target shooting?). What they really care about is destroying our identity, our sense of belonging, our nationhood. To hundreds of thousands of Britons, their sense of identity is intricately bound up with hunting or other field sports — that's why they're the latest target.

That's also why weather forecasters don't use temperatures which actually mean something any more. That's why you can't buy pre-packed potatoes by the pound any more. That's why the county regiments have been amalgamated out of existence. That's why our kids come home from school knowing more about 'colonial exploitation' in Africa than about our own history. That's why TV soaps portray homosexual perversion as acceptable, even preferable. That's why our cities (because British people there are targets too) have been filled with hideous tower blocks and with strangers from every part of the globe. That's why our political and economic freedoms are being submerged in a European super-state. That's why they won't leave anything alone.

What we are facing is the organised destruction of our identity and freedoms by an out-of-touch but immensely powerful political and media elite. It can only be stopped, let alone reversed, when large numbers of ordinary Britons unite and organise to resist and reverse the process — when we British organise to take back control of our own country. That's the purpose of the British National Party.

guaranteed publicity with the party's strong, yet popular stance of advocating capital punishment for the sex monsters.

The other new A4 leaflet offered is the new Countryside leaflet, looked at in August BN, and which is more appropriate for rural areas since it is aimed at country folk. In this leaflet, the point is made that the country folk are under attack just as are the townies.

The party spells out its policies to regenerate the countryside, provide jobs and maintain the rural way of life.

Both leaflets are price £10 per thousand with postal charges of £6.40/1,000 and £8.55/2,000.

Because of the 'hassle-free' nature of both of these leaflets they are particularly suitable for isolated individuals who wish to leaflet their communities and get the word out where it may never have been heard before.

To assist that, prices on smaller quantities are as follows: £5.00/500 plus £5.15 p&p; £2.50/250 plus £2.50 p&p; £1.00/100 plus 95p p&p.

SUCCESS FOR NATIONALISM!

INDIA

India, the world's biggest democracy gave no overall verdict in its recent General Election but returned a record number of Indian nationalist MPs to the country's Parliament, the Lok Sabha.

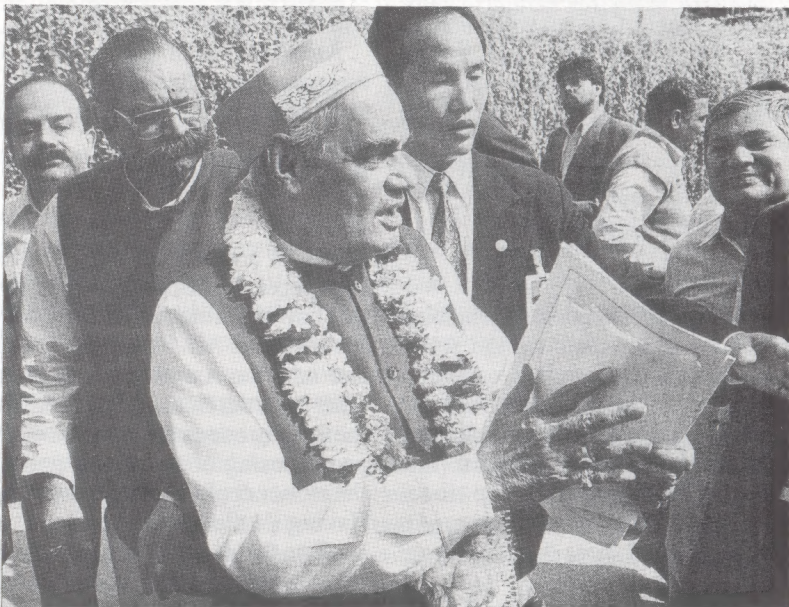

The nationalist Bharatiya Janata Party (Indian Peoples Party) led by Atal Bihari Vajpayee emerged as the country's biggest party with 179 seats and along with its allies holds 252 seats, an increase of 74 but just short of half the total. The multi-racial Congress Party was thrashed out of sight with just 142 MPs out of 545. Along with its allies, it could muster just 169 votes in the Lok Sabha and the socialists and marxists took a further 99 seats.

While still short of an overall majority, the BJP are seeking allies and have pledged an 'India for the Indians' programme.

Atal Bihari Vajpayee has been sworn in as India's new Prime Minister and has 13 days to obtain a Lok Sabha majority. The last time this happened, in 1996, Vajpayee was unable to form a majority and an unstable Congress/marxist coalition was formed.

The BJP success is a stunning victory for nationalism which British Nationalists too can take heart in, for the BJP are part of a world wide movement towards nationalism. BN salutes the success of the BJP!

Indian Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee

FRANCE

The Front National exceeded the wildest expectations of its supporters in the recent Regional elections in France.

The FN came close to beating the conservative RPR and emerged as the biggest party in the Marseilles region. In Paris, the FN took as many seats as the RPR and the UDF combined. Other big FN gains came in Strasbourg, Lille, Lyon and Metz. In the biggest humiliation for the right, the Front beat UDF leader Philippe Léotard in the Var around Toulon to third place scoring 28% — just one point behind the combined left. Le Pen said the results were a real joy for his party.

The FN's vote nationally moved marginally up to 15.4% but that was enough to give the Front an increase of 36 seats on 1992. More important even than that was the Front's destruction of the conservative Right.

The RPR/UDF went into the elections controlling 20 out of 22 regions but won only 31% of the vote against the left's 35%. That made the Front National with nearly 15.5% as kingmaker able to break the right in every region not won outright by the left.

In a masterly move, against this backdrop of a failing conservative vote, FN leader Jean-Marie Le Pen said that any conservative wishing to secure Front support and prevent a socialist victory in any given region had only to agree to support a modest six-point FN programme. The six points — including defending the French identity, no increase in taxes, reducing crime and job training were framed so that they could in truth be supported by almost anyone. The catch was that a deal would have to be made at all. Some did and others didn't. The ones that did were promptly expelled by their party leaders. In one skilful move, the Front National has brought the conservative right to the point of collapse.

In Britain, BNP leader John Tyndall has often identified the destruction of the Conservative Party as the crucial prerequisite to the BNP emerging as a major force in British politics and the same is true in France.

In defiance of orders from the RPR/UDF leaders, five RPR/UDF regional leaders did the deal with the Front claiming that Paris was ignorant of local conditions. The UDF, itself an alliance of small parties, has been particularly willing to accept support from the FN. Former General Secretary to the RPR, Jean François Mancel was one of those expelled by leader Philippe Séguin for accepting Front aid in the Oise region, north of Paris. He said: "The strategy of open war against the Front has ended in complete stalemate; carrying on with it is complete madness... From Monday the traditional right will have exploded and should be considered officially dead."

No sooner had the UDF leader suspended five UDF regional Presidents than fellow UDF leader Alain Madelin congratulated them!

The shattered conservative right has seen the deals made with the FN at regional level destroy the unity and credibility of the conservative right alliance. Whatever the RPR/UDF do, the Front National is winning. If the Front National is accepted as a formal coalition partner, it will see its representation rocket; if, on the other hand, the RPR/UDF make a total break with those that have supped with the FN, then automatically the Front's power base will increase to turn it into the only serious opposition to the Socialist-led coalition.

Bruno Mégret, the FN's deputy leader said: "We are entering the second phase in the growth of the Front National, which is now a party of government."

● In Denmark, the nationalist Danish Peoples Party led by Pia Kjaersgaard tripled its representation to 12 seats in the Danish national Parliament by winning more than 7% in the Danish General Election held last month.

MIDLANDS EDUCATION & TRAINING SEMINAR by Midlander

The British National Party, Education & Training programme was set up to enable the party to develop in a more effective and positive way by improving the competence of members who already hold, or who seek to hold, positions of responsibility. On Saturday, 7th March 1998, nearly 50 delegates from Birmingham (South & West), Coventry, Rugby, Burton-on-Trent, Rugeley, Nottingham, Peterborough and Leicester, attended the winter session, Midlands (East & West) Education & Training seminar organised by Coventry BNP.

The seminar started at 10.00am and ended at 6.00pm and was designed to educate and encourage members to Ideology and Attitude were covered during the afternoon and each member present was asked to play the role of voter being asked to sign a nomination paper in order to allow a BNP candidate to stand in an election. The result of the test was that 1 in 10 wrote in block capitals — demonstrating that on the doorstep great care has to be taken to ensure the nomination paper is correctly filled in. The legal requirements of elections were then explained as well as the WHY of elections, from County Council to the European Elections next year.

Policy & Ideology was directed at explaining how the party's political beliefs were formulated into policies create a better party.

The seminar ended on a positive note and all agreed it had been a huge success. One member said: "As far as I am concerned, all that needed to be said, was said, and the general consensus was that everyone enjoyed the day and are much the wiser for it." Another said: "It was good to meet people I hadn't met before, and from the seminar I gained a lot of information for putting to use in the near future."

Some members stayed for a social evening, others made their way home and members of the East Midlands Club, which exists to fund the region's admin, travelled to a Leicestershire Market town for the Club's annual become more positive and productive and thus make a significant difference to their respective BNP units. Seminar co-ordinator, John Peacock in his brief introduction said: "The BNP relies on the efficiency of its leading officials and front line activists... and today will be a learning experience for all of us." The subjects covered were shared between Richard Edmonds, Nick Griffin and John Peacock.

The morning classes were Leadership and Local Party Organisation with Nick Griffin dividing delegates into small groups to discuss what makes a good leader and conversely what makes a bad one — allowing 10 minutes for discussion. A representative from each group then gave a brief talk on what had been discussed. Mr. Griffin then gave a detailed talk on the subject during which he made it clear that everyone present had the ability to lead. John Peacock then gave a talk on Local Party Organisation and explained what Regional Organisers looked for in local Branch and Group Organisers laying great emphasis on responsibility which he called a 'key word' in the BNP vocabulary.

Contesting Elections, Policy.

and Richard Edmonds told the class how he had felt some 25 years ago after returning home from overseas to find that Britain had changed very much for the worse and had become darker and darker. It was a most interesting talk giving delegates an understanding of how ideas were discussed and developed into political, economic and social policy. It was emphasised that this subject was of particular importance because as leading members and officials of the party they would be required to explain policy to new members and to answer probing questions from the media.

The last subject of the day was Attitude which is about setting good examples and being positive as essential prerequisites to success. Attitude is about how people behave towards each other, how BNP officials behave towards members in order to inspire confidence and how the BNP interfaces with the public in a way that builds trust. Nick Griffin set an equation — $T + E \times A = P$. Talent + Education x Attitude = Performance, saying that there are in the BNP members with talent who, if the party educates them, have the ability to develop skills which with the right attitude will serve to dinner. Mr. Edmonds was this year's dinner guest and all who attended had a great night out in excellent company. A fantastic end to a highly successful day.

Letter writing campaign

The letter below was the main letter in the Plymouth Extra of 26/2/98. Included was the party's local contact address. There is no excuse for not writing, letters can and do get published — and with the party's address!

TV STARS: Caroline Langrishe, Jonathan Cake and Jemma Redgrave in Mosley.

Be proud to be British

I WOULD like to agree with the points raised in the letter 'Mosley serial will be fiction not fact' (Extra February 19). It seems to be the current fashion to attack both patriots and anything that would normally make people feel proud to be British. Remember the uproar over the plaque to Sir John Hawkins a few years ago.

Obviously people like Mosley, Powell, and Hawkins were not faultless, but they were genuinely concerned for the well-being of their countrymen. The strange irony is that the people who sneer at British patriots are the very same people who revel in the sight of foreigners expressing their national/cultural identities.

THE 'SILENT MAJORITY' FINDS ITS VOICE AGAIN!

"MIDDLE BRITAIN" is waking up! It's got its decade of being ignored, mistreated, spurned and spat upon and now it's back with a vengeance! Now Labour's attacks on country people as farmers, on the green belt, on village beauties and on our children's rights is a traditionalist rebellion as just as the Tories' attack on the strength of being green, enough of being pulled and enough of being ignored. It's time with asking: we're not going to DEMAND a fair deal for country people and country traditions. We're going to TAKE it!

Euro Election '99 Fund

The BNP is making an appeal for £50,000 for the European elections next year. This is the amount needed centrally, regionally and locally together to contest the Euro elections in sufficient strength to win TV broadcasting time and take the party's election address to 12 million voters — the biggest nationalist push than at any time since 1979. The party remains, of course, resolutely opposed to the EU. Because the fund has to raise its £50,000 target by next March, that means the party has to raise £1,000 per week. Locally and nationally it is possible. But for that to happen, you need to give, to give generously, to give often and to give now. The total raised last month is £499. BN would like to thank all those that stumped up. This sum would normally be perfectly respectable, particularly as the £2,000 video editing fund was fully subscribed in just 3 weeks the month before. In addition, it's fair to say that a number of firm pledges have also been received and the total, as yet, takes no account of local finances. Nevertheless, it's simply not enough given the ambitious target which must be reached. It's time to conscience and wallet, it's time to give now! This month's champions of Britain are: R.B. Cornwall £20, Anon Norfolk £100, Anon Brighton £52, Anon Nottingham £20, H.D.T.

Wakefield £50, Anon Teddington £25, Anon Blackpool £20, London Patriot £80, D.S. Manchester £5, Anon Cambridge £5, A.W. Enfield £52, A.P. Romford £20, Anon Herts £20, Anon N.E. England £10, Anon Isle of Lewis £10, K.S. Isle of Lewis £10

WEST news

BNP targets West in recruiting drive

VOTERS in the West Country are being targeted in a special campaign by the British National Party.

BNP activists are focusing on people's worries about the region's faltering economy and countryside heritage in a bid to boost their numbers.

Bruce Cowd, South West BNP regional organiser, said: 'A few years ago we couldn't make any headway in Somerset, Devon and Cornwall.'

'Now we have people in Plymouth and branches in Somerset, Weston-super-Mare and throughout the region.'

A special BNP South West website is being set up on the Internet and villages and towns are being targeted with leaflet drops. Typically the activists target areas where there is dis-

'Don't be fooled' warning quiet. More than 4,000 leaflets were dropped in Newlyn recently as local concern grew about the fishing crisis.

Mr Cowd said: 'There is deprivation in Cornwall and parts of Plymouth. The BNP is not just for the inner cities. People find our message very attractive.'

On the recent countryside march in London more than 20,000 papers were handed out. Mr Cowd said: 'We had a very friendly reception from marchers.'

But Nigel Burke, of the Countryside Alliance which organised the march, said he had no sympathy for the BNP cause.

He said: 'We told them not to come and said we wouldn't have anything to do with their racist trash. After all, Hitler banned fox hunting.'

Mr Cowd said the BNP were not closet racists: 'We have no hatred of (foreigners). Some of them are obviously in this country for economic reasons, but at the end of the day this is our country and we would offer them generous repatriation grants.'

'Most are banana growers and should have gone somewhere like Guyana.'

But academic and BNP expert Dr Christopher Huskings, of the London School of Economics, warned people not to be fooled.

He said: 'They are urban racists and they never manage to transcend that. There's no tradition that they have been able to make any serious kind of take-off in the South West. There are some maverick groups in the West Country but essentially they are only relevant in the East End of London. We probably won't see a major take-off, but one can be complacent.'

A man working closely with groups monitoring the BNP, whose identity cannot be revealed for security reasons, said: 'They are coming in from London, doing their leaflet drops and then going back there. At the moment they are not that organised in the South West but we are keeping a careful eye on them.'

The recruitment campaign by Bristol BNP together with the party's mass leafleting of the Countryside Alliance march made the West Country's Sunday Independent last month.

Steady growth along with a new South West web site has provoked the interest of the media. As branch Organiser Bruce Cowd said: 'The BNP is not just for the inner cities'

Some light relief was had when the paper misquoted him as saying of Britain's immigrants: 'Most are banana growers and should have gone somewhere like Guyana.'

Publicity like this is valuable. It boosts morale, credibility and recruitment.

MID-STAFFS SET OUT AGENDA

On February 28, just too late to be reported in last month's BN, the mid-Staffordshire group of the BNP held a highly successful inaugural meeting in Staffs chaired by Ian Arnold.

The first item on the agenda was a report on recent activities by group Organiser Neil Phillips plus plans for the future development of the group and the wider area.

The treasurer, Gary Arnold then made his financial report before holding a raffle and collection to boost group funds.

Following an interval, Regional Organiser Keith Axon made an excellent and incisive speech detailing the anti-patriotic forces at work controlling the media.

The social held afterwards was particularly useful in developing regional contacts for future activities.

● Stoke BNP contested a council by-election last month obtaining 60 votes for 3.1% of the vote in Stoke's Shelton ward. This was the first time the party had fought the ward and while the result wasn't a bad one, it would have been better but for the Lib-Dems winning the seat from Labour in a political landslide, thus capturing the anti-Labour protest vote.

What we stand for

- The establishment of a government of national unity that will put an end to nationally divisive party warfare; the return of leadership and statesmanship to British affairs.
- An end to immigration and a start to repatriation.
- British withdrawal from the European Community: trade with Europe where it suits us but no political ties.
- The disbanding of the multi-racial Commonwealth and its replacement by a new Commonwealth of self-governing white states.
- British ownership and control of British industry and resources.
- Protection of British industry by the selective exclusion of foreign manufactured goods from the British market.
- An end to the financial swindle that causes inflation and slump, and its replacement by a sane and fair financial system that will give the people the purchasing power to buy the goods they produce.
- The subordination of the power of the City to the power of Government, and the harnessing of the City to the needs of British industry.
- The regeneration of British farming, with the object of achieving the maximum self-sufficiency in food; also the restoration of the fishing industry by protection of our traditional fishing grounds.
- A healthy environment for a healthy people — the protection of our countryside and an end to the architectural disfigurement of our towns and cities.
- Tougher treatment of criminals, including the return of the death penalty.
- A return to traditional methods of education, with stronger discipline in the classroom and the sacking of 'trendy' teachers.
- An alternative defence strategy: withdrawal from NATO; closure of all foreign military and air bases in Britain; British withdrawal from the war in former Yugoslavia, where no British interest is at stake; the bringing home of British forces from Germany; the strengthening of Britain's defences and a position of armed neutrality.
- An end to overseas aid and the allocation of the money saved to the financing of repatriation and greater help for the needy at home.
- The crushing of the IRA, the termination of the Anglo-Irish agreement and firm support for the loyalist majority in Northern Ireland.
- A return to healthy moral values aimed at strengthening the family and community.
